About Robert

Bob Tucker's practice focuses on commercial disputes from arbitration to trial and appeal. His client base includes manufacturers, hospitals, colleges, technology companies, small businesses and individuals. Bob has a keen focus on winning arguments based on each client's case and the law that applies.

Bob targets his practice on complex commercial litigation and defense of claims of professional malpractice. He represents parties in probate and trust disputes, and he also litigates trademark and trade dress infringement disputes. He has taken on disputes stemming from non-compete employment agreements and has represented employers before the Ohio State Employment Relations Board and the Ohio Civil Rights Commission. He also is experienced in trying labor arbitrations for public and private employers.

Bob also consults with clients regarding risk management and government relations. Bob has the skill set required to serve as an effective and efficient mediator in civil disputes.

Before joining the firm in 2011, Bob served as a clerk for U.S. District Court Judge Jack Zouhary, and also clerked for U.S. Magistrate Judge (now U.S. District Court Judge) James R. Knepp, II.
