

Taylor E. Albertini

Summer Associate

About Taylor

Taylor Albertini joined RCO Law as a 2026 Summer Associate. She is currently a third-year law student at Cleveland State University's College of Law, where she serves as Submissions Editor and published author for the Global Business Law Review. Taylor also serves as a peer mentor for first-year law students.

Taylor received her undergraduate degree from West Virginia University and a master's degree from Evangel University. Prior to law school, she spent almost a decade working in operations and project management for a nonprofit. Taylor's passion is estate planning and her goal is to use her degree to assist families and their loved ones as they plan their legacies. Above all, she desires to make the law inviting and approachable for the clients she serves.

Taylor is a student member of the Toledo Bar Association and the Toledo Women's Bar Association, as well as involved in her local church.
